

Press Release

Cayman Islands boutique law firm, Travers Thorp Alberga, will merge with British Virgin Islands based Orion Law with immediate effect.

Anthony Travers, Senior Partner of Travers Thorp Alberga said;

“Given our recent expansion in Asia, the time is right to partner with a law firm and corporate service provider to provide comprehensive legal services to our clients in both the Cayman Islands and the British Virgin Islands.

Over several months we have forged an excellent understanding with Orion Law and we have together developed highly competitive pricing for a full suite of British Virgin Islands corporate fund and financial services products consistent with our firm’s value proposition.”

The former Partners of Orion Law, Myron Walwyn, the Minister of Education and Culture in the British Virgin Islands House of Assembly, and Ingrid Moses Scatliffe, the Speaker of the British Virgin Islands House of Assembly, will join the merged firm as Partners. Myron Walwyn added

“We are very pleased with this new arrangement which will substantially improve access to a fast growing client base in Hong Kong and PRC where our British Virgin Islands financial services products are already well recognised.”

The merged firms will continue to practice under the name Travers Thorp Alberga, www.traversthorpalberga.com.
